Not illustrated. 1915 Excerpt: .record for the entire membership always reveals the fact that some are overdoing and others are underdoing, a condition arising more from inadequate direction of church responsibilities than from either inability or unwillingness for church work. On the reverse side of this card, a schedule is to be filled out regarding other members of the family not affiliated with the church. If the ideal of church membership consists of the affiliation of Christian families rather than the affiliation of Christian individuals, then all the names on this reverse side of the card should become the burden of the church until each name is transferred to the front side of the card. This record card should accompany the transfer certificate of membership, when the family removes from one charge to another. The schedules might be printed on cardboard, and arranged alphabetically for a card index file, or on lighter paper for a loose-leaf book to be carried in the pocket as a street membership (and nonmembership) guide. They should be arranged according to the shortest continuous route for an every-church-home visitation. This visitation should be made as often as quarterly whenever practicable. For the convenience of the members of the church the writer has had printed in the hand directory of membership, CHURCH NON-MEMBERSHIP RECORD Other Members or The Family NOT Affiliated With Our Church a part entitled, Church Homes by Streets. This has been very useful for systematic visitation and has been greatly appreciated. Another schedule,...
